The Microsoft settlement should be closed this has gone on long enough Netscape is a poor product which would have died in the market anyway. (I am a Software Engineer who specializes in Internet applications). My biggest problem is the support I have to give to a product which is buggy, unstable and highly behind the times i.e.. Netscape Navigator. The company which needs to be talked to about Netscape is AOL and its handling of the browser after the acquisition of Netscape. Please settle this lawsuit so that the world can get onto more important things. Like finding Osama bin Laden.
